FIRST FOOTBALL OF THE SEASON

BLUE AND BUFF AGAINST THE GREEN AND GOLD—ELSTON TO UMPIRE THE GAME.

Charles Elston will umpire the football game this afternoon. F. M.
Brooks will act as referee. The game starts on the gridiron of Oahu College at 3:30 precisely. The general expectation is that the collegians will win but that the Mailes will put up a stiff game that will develop into a much stronger one as the season goes on. Anderson, who plays left end for Punahou is one of the factors and comes fresh from the mainland football. He has got to back a man sixteen pounds heavier than himself in the shape of Vivian Richardson. The lineup with stripped weights is as follows:

speaker but sometimes the English phrase does not coincide readily with the glowing, radiant picture of Hawaiian metaphor. The governorship will content me if I am provided with sufficient with which to keep up the dignity of the office and my own.
It is understood that the admiral will be satisfied with $1500 a month emolument as governor's salary. Admiral Beckley is to be reckoned with. He has always been prominently brought before the readers of the Star and will be. An insinuation to the contrary is merely an insinuation and a baseless one. As far as the admiral needs support in his aspirations the Star will seriously consider him in the same light as it has done hitherto.

THE NEW YORK

show that she had "found herself" some years ago.
"Why, if we had any idea," sorrowfully declared the officers this morning "that the Hong Kong Maru was going to get in here such a short time ahead of us, we would have let the New York out and beaten her. You don't quite understand the sort of a captain we have.
Why he would put this ship clean up on Punchbowl if he had to."
The regret of the officers will be shared by nearly every body ashore, except perhaps the Japanese population. It would have been a splendid feat for the cruiser to have raced and beaten the Pacific mail greyhounds of the Pacific and had the feat been accomplished as the officers of the New York declare it could have been, the New York would have added a tradition to the annals of the American navy, that would never have died.

The showing made by the New York is certainly significant because of the particular character of the Japanese mail boats. The vessels of the Japanese line were built especially under government supervision with a view to their being speedily converted into dispatch boats and transports by the Japanese navy in case of war. They are also subsidized by the Japanese government. By her showing made in all her actual competition with the Hong Kong Maru, the New York has demonstrated her right to be considered the crack cruiser in the navy. She was built with two purposes in view, one was to fight and the other to either run away or run after an enemy. Even though the Hong Kong Maru is rated as over a 17 knot boat, she would have stood little chance of getting away from the New York had the cruiser been put under full power. The New York showed a speed over 21 knots on her trial trip. Her work on the recent run from Yokohama has demonstrated that she can maintain an exceptionally high rate of sea going speed.

The New York left Yokohama at noon of October 29. The weather was good.
Her fastest days run was 260 miles.
The only incident of interest on the trip was the death on November 2, of an older named J. H. Cole of 3-year disease. The deceased had been transferred from the battleship Kentucky to the New York for transportation to the Marine Island Hospital. He was buried at sea on the following day. The New York has been the flagship of the Admiral Frederick Rodgers, the commander of the Asiatic station, and is now en route to San Francisco with that officer. He is accompanied by his personal staff. After reaching San Francisco, Admiral Rodgers will haul down his flag, as he will have completed his sea duty. His assignment is not positive but it is understood that he is to receive the command of the New York Navy Yard, which is the crack assignment of shore duty.

While Admiral Rodgers has an idea what will become of him, the other officers aboard the New York have a depressing premonition as to what fate holds in store for them. They are in dread lest the New York receive orders to go to Panama where the battleship Wisconsin has been on duty for some time. In fact it was about the first query that the officers made after the vessel had been docked. Nobody was able however to enlighten them on the subject, so the suspense will probably continue until they reach San Francisco.

Whatever may be in store for them after they reach the Coast, the officers and men propose to enjoy life while in Honolulu. The vessel will remain in port at least a week. She could have arrived off the harbor last night around about midnight but she was slowed down yesterday and timed in order to make port at 8 o'clock this morning.
Captain Cameron piloted the vessel into the harbor. The New York draws more water than any other vessel in the navy. She was drawing 27 feet aft, when she entered the harbor. Lieutenant E. E. Capehart was the deck officer and he docked the big cruiser in the naval slip, in a manner that aroused admiration of those ashore. The big

POLO PLAYERS FINAL WORK

TEAM WILL BE PHOTOGRAPHED THIS AFTERNOON—STORY OF SHINGLE'S SENSATIONAL GOAL.

The polo players will get out early this afternoon in order to have their photographs taken ready for insertion in the special souvenir program which will be issued during tournament week.
Photographs of the members of the other teams are being sent from the other islands of the members of the team. A special cover has been designed and the souvenir will contain a local history of the game. It will be printed in the colors of the Oahu club.
Fleming, who was to have ridden with Shingle this afternoon, is hors de combat by physician's instructions. He has a damaged rib which must be nursed.
There have been persistent rumors about S. E. Damon playing at the last moment. This he will not do. Aside from not caring to break into the hard work performed by the other players and apart from his cracked ribs which have mended sufficiently to allow him to ride, Damon ruptured a vessel in his Shingle's line up this afternoon with Dickey, Atkinson and A. P. Judd should make matters very lively for Dole, Dil-lingham, Potter and Castle.

The goal made by Shingle against the whole crack team last Saturday has created much comment and the straight story of it has yet to be told. Shingle was not ordered to make a "Light Brigade" charge against the four by Damon, who is far too clever a coach to indulge in anything like so quixotic a play. The four of the match team as it then was were alone present in the early part of the afternoon. Damon was coaching them and Dunn sending out the ball from the goal line. Shingle arrived and played a lone hand to enhance certain points the coach was trying to make. He followed up the drive off and went clean through the hole that exists in the crack team's center where Dillingham has a tendency to do too much and Potter too little individual work. Judd did not attempt to ride off. Dillingham missed, a thing that seldom happens and Shingle seized the opportunity. He cleverly avoided Dole, sent the ball mauka of the flag, caught it before the line was reached and cleverly side-stroked it between the posts. It was an excellent piece of work but to say that one man could ride through the crack team at will is exaggerated folly.
The quartet was not warned and did not play in concert against him.

Shingle's run up the field however demonstrated so clearly his good riding his success of stroke and direction that it brought up the trial mentioned in yesterday's Star. With Shingle at 2 there will be little gap finding by visiting teams.
